been placed there before the fire had been started.

The attempt to destroy the building is believed to be the result of a coatest in the district. The old structure, a two-story frame building, has been outgrown, and the erection of a new building has been proposed. At the recent school meeting some of the voters advocated the enlargement of the present building, while others wanted a new oullding in a different location. The district was about evenly divided upon the question, which was not disposed of. Considerable feeling has arisen in the district over the matter.
